A commitment to be ready and relevant for today’s students and those who will come after them.
Morgan, Kansas

Manhattan Christian College exists to train Christian leaders who are motivated and prepared to spread the good news about the saving power of Jesus Christ. The impact and effectiveness of this ministry may be measured throughout the United States and around the globe and is exponentially multiplied by the number of graduates and students each year.

The College Administration and Board of Trustees are united in their vision to provide the tools needed to recruit and retain more students who will serve Christ and His Kingdom in every occupation. We strive for nothing less than excellence because it is what our future generations deserve—not only our students, but those they will impact.

Today’s students are diversified by age, interest, and life experience. At MCC, 88% of the student body is enrolled in traditional day-time classes while the remaining 12% are enrolled in one of the degree-completion programs which meet one night a week (9%) or online (3%) for classes. The unique leadership and Christian ministry curriculum offered throughout all of these different programs gives individuals an opportunity to tailor a degree to meet their specific interests as they pursue God’s call on their lives.

The needs of today’s college students, along with the learning process have dynamically changed. With your help, MCC will be ready and relevant to reach the next generation. The Next Generation campaign will address the campus priorities which include improving the first impression, building a multi-purpose student life facility, and enhancing technology and security.

The Projects

Three million dollars in cash and commitments is needed to make these campaign goals a reality.

1. An improved first impression.

Today’s students and their parents equate quality with what they see. Enhancements to the campus courtyard and parking lot will better reflect the value of the education and the personal care students receive at MCC.

More green space, additional manicured landscaping, and improving the parking lot surface will help visitors know that MCC cares about the details. An outdoor environment that is well maintained gets noticed and is inviting to all who walk or drive by. MCC is committed to excellence being the standard of measure for all of their operations.

Since 1947, MCC has rented city facilities for student life activities.

The MCC campus is land-locked in the center of the city, across the street from Kansas State University, and neighbors to the Aggieville shopping area. Space for a wide variety of programming is very limited on campus and the college regularly rents city facilities for all types of ministry activities.

Unlimited access to a facility large enough to hold special events as well as support the athletic program, will provide new opportunities for MCC to do outreach as well as bring the entire college family together. A gym will also legitimize the student experience on campus by providing more opportunities for structured activities such as ministry and job fairs, small group projects, team building, large group worship services, intramurals and Thunder athletic games. More than 52% of the student body participates in a varsity sport or intramurals throughout the year. The multi-purpose facility will also be the hub for social interaction and relationship building among the student body. Whenever the building is open, this multi-purpose facility will provide unstructured opportunities for individual health and fitness as well as a fun place to hang out.

A multi-purpose facility would also provide space large enough for the college to hold outreach events such as conferences, seminars, and banquets for Manhattan and the surrounding area.

3. Technology and security enhancements.

The technology attributes of a college campus require continual fine-tuning and financial investment to operate at satisfactory levels. Wireless access and optimal Internet speed are no longer optional as the 24/7 demands increase to each student’s multiple devices. Also, the teaching tools in the classrooms such as video projectors and recording equipment, as well as the computers in the library and the faculty lab tops need to be replaced.

The national growing need for campus security is witnessed regularly on the nightly news. MCC has installed video cameras in residence hall entry ways. But, the next step to keep MCC user-friendly and safe is the purchase and implementation of a magnetic strip I.D. card system. This type of system will have multiple uses, including door keys, meal plans, and checking out library resources.

Steps to Success

The projects outlined in the Next Generation campaign will require three million dollars in gifts.

Alumni, parents, and friends of the college are encouraged to prayfully consider how they can be involved and make a difference. You may choose to make a one-time donation or a recurring donation over a period of time. But,
It is critical that fundraising continues moving forward so that when final City approval is received in August, construction may begin on the parking lot and courtyard.

Before construction may begin, the remaining best-case scenario for the City of Manhattan approval process includes:

- June 1 - Public Hearing with the Urban Planning Board for the PUD changes
- June 16 - First Public Hearing with the City Commission
- June 30 - Second and Final Reading of the Ordinance with the City Commission
- August 17 - Final Urban Planning Board Approval

The Next Generation campaign provides a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to help MCC build a multi-purpose center, improve student life, and legitimize the college campus experience. More MCC students means more influence on the Kingdom and you can help make that happen.

The full evening program left individuals with a renewed sense of where the College is as well as where it is going. MCC is extremely grateful to all in attendance as well as their support of the college and its goals. Next year’s Vision 360° Banquet will again be held at the Hilton Garden Inn in Manhattan and is scheduled for Friday, April 22, 2016.

Summer Camp Teams

Sixteen students are currently traveling across the United States to tell the MCC story and to build the Kingdom of God. In eight short weeks, working alongside multiple camp and conference staffs and church volunteers, these student teams will help lead thousands of middle school and high school students in their own personal experiences with God.

The summer camp teams are trained to be relationship builders and to share Christ with those who do not know Him, strengthen relationships with those who do, encourage students, staff and other fellow teams and serve in any way needed. Their high level of energy is utilized to teach lessons, lead small groups, plan awesome rec games, and whatever else might be needed.

This year’s trips will include events in California, Arizona, Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Illinois, Oklahoma, and Missouri. Join us in prayer for their safety over the many miles they will travel, opportunities to share Jesus, and that many will come to know Jesus as their Savior.

Online Degree Program Earns Recognition

The two accredited degree completion programs in Biblical Leadership and Management and Ethics have recently been recognized as “one of the best.”

Rated by BestColleges.com as a top three online Christian College, a top affordable choice by OnlineColleges.net, and as one of the best in Kansas by AffordableCollegeGroup.org, MCC’s distance education program helps busy men and women successfully integrate learning the Bible into life and work.

Each of these rankings recognized the MCC online program for its outstanding academic program and support services. Although the decision methodology changed for each list, the overall assessment included an evaluation of acceptance, enrollment, retention, graduation rates, and more.

Nationwide, the fastest growing demographic of college students is adults who work 20 hours a week or more. Distance learning caters to these busy, working adults and creates a learning environment that is both welcoming and structured.

Adult students who have a minimum of 40 transferable hours can begin to complete their degree in the MCC online program throughout the year. Each course meets for eight weeks and earns three semester hours of credit.

Online students may take any two of the distance education courses during each 8-week term, and there are two 8-week terms per semester. These terms begin in August, October, January, March, and June. Generally, students spend an average of 14-15 hours per week on course work. Time commitment varies on how quickly a person reads and is able to complete the assignments.

The MCC online programs are ideally suited for anyone wanting to improve their ability to study the Bible and share the Gospel or are interested in a career focused on service. Whether this means working for a non-profit, working as a pastor or staff member in a local church, or working in areas such as Christian counseling and education, a Bible college degree gives students a strong biblical and ethical base to be an effective Christian leader.

For those who do not wish to complete a full bachelor’s degree, MCC offers a 21-hour Certificate of Biblical Leadership. Still others may want to take just one course to increase biblical knowledge or provide additional training for their current career (e.g. teachers in ACSI Christian schools or business professionals needing academic credentials) as non-degree students. MCC’s online program is flexible, affordable and is also known as a Military Friendly School.
